MAJOR OBJECTIVES OF ORGANIZING THE FESTIVAL

Sessions and Objectives

Highlights and Key Statements

Session 3: Youth Social Engagement Panel

To share about the social impacts being created by the youth in respective countries.

To discuss the hindrances in the youth sector and solutions in South Asian Perspectives.

"As there is a saying youth are the future of our nation; youth plays an incredible role in the mission towards the development of their community, region, country, and the world. It is the crucial time in their life to learn, invest, prepare for the future development connecting within the development activities, creating networks, developing skills, and much more. As a result, it helps youth to grow up to be confident, commitment, creative, inspirational, capable in every aspect of your life to develop the whole region".

"There is a link between adolescence, teenager, and young people like a pyramid. So, youth can build knowledge to grow up. Through youth engagement, youth can get opportunities, services, and support for social change".

"Youths are not just our future. Youth are the present of our country as well as the world. Social engagement is being part of the social change that youths want to create".

"Youth cannot establish a project or social action project without the help of mentors, partners, and leaders. Youth leadership is important to encourage young people to reach their full potential for youth development".

Session 4: Keynote on Policies for Better Education

"Education is not just for those studying formally in schools, colleges, and universities. Everyone is the student of the future, and those who refuse to accept this fact, the future will refuse to accept them. So, start learning NOW, to be accepted by the Future".

"People normally think when they got a degree makes them educated, but a degree is just a starting point. When education is applied, it becomes knowledge. And the final take is wisdom. Knowledge means knowing what to say and wisdom means to determine whether to say or not. If we want to be future-ready, if we want to make the best out of our education, we need to reach the ultimate stage of knowledge and higher education. Education essentially doesn't make the future-ready, and he said that as a Global Perspective".

"We have to transform everything we can trace, be it education, health, economy, governance, environment, and so on. The people we need today should have high imaginative quotient value. Youths need to focus on their crucial abilities that can be curiosity, ability to ask questions, problem-solving, and decision making. Also, Youth needs to find their Stressbuster and their purpose –inner calling. They should read more, research more significantly to broaden up their knowledge".

Session 5: Country Specific Panel- Nepal

Topic- Youth, Skills, and Education

"Education is not a primary base of skills; it is meant to sharpen it. Education helps to sharpen the skills but just education is not the base of all skills."

Education not only gives an academic degree but also makes us confident in every means. Skills are necessary to achieve success.

The main skills that should be implemented are discipline mentality and discipline skills. In every action, if we go to have a good thing then discipline is the key thing.

"The first skill that youths need to know is to identify themselves, their values instead of coping with others or following others. He mentioned, their self-identification, self-realization plays a significant role in their life. Thus, firstly we have to fight with ourselves to be with us then we can gain skills. Instead of gaining skill, we can internalize the power of myself and realize the skill that we have and what we need to sharpen."

Session 6: Country Specific Panel- India

Topic- Impact of COVID on Young People in India

Due to the COVID situation, 31 lakhs youth in India lost their jobs. Youth who are educated and skilled have returned to their homes, in that way they can contribute towards the development of their country and places. There is a gap between jobs and skills in India as well. Therefore, there needs to be self-employment training, research, and engagement for Youths at the local level. Inclusion is really necessary for every sector.

Lockdown has affected the rights of people with disabilities, caretakers. The plans' policies need to be implemented as this makes a lot of difference.

Covid-19 has taught corporate decision-makers that in formulating future supply chain designs, apart from cost, quality, and delivery they would also need to stress-test the chains on new performance measures including resilience, and responsiveness.

If we can control the local economy, we can control the whole of India. We need to create scope to encourage local sources, providing them with the skills and knowledge required in the job market.

Session 10: Country Specific Panel- Pakistan

Topic- Mobilizing Youths on Creative Solution

As a youth, we all have the energy to bring change and be a responsible citizen. People need to invest their knowledge and expertise in the development of their community and society.

It is important to prepare better policies to engage Youth in the right direction and to prepare them for playing their due role in society by empowering them with due skills and capabilities.

Different kinds of youth development programs need to be initiated that provides support to young people in fixing their issues and problems with the help of their strengths.

Confidence is one of the major qualities that youths of today need to have. Only then, creative solutions can be explored as this quality take hold of all other qualities that are essential to bringing the change.

Session 11: Country Specific Panel- Maldives

Topic- Youth - building resilience, focusing on future skills and achieving dreams

Building resilience in young people is an important goal to strengthen capacity and promote skills that help to reduce their problems and create solutions. One way to foster resilience in young people is through meaningful youth participation.

The youth of today needs to learn from mistakes and have a broad mindset. Even if they have a specific degree, this should not end there. A young mind needs to grasp the learnings and skills in their life.

There should be more opportunities for youth, adults, and Government to interact. This can be done by organizing volunteer and community work, promoting mutual understanding amongst youth and adults, increasing opportunities for youth to become more involved in community life and decision making, promoting awareness among youth, overcoming traditional obstacles to gender equality, and acquiring resources to provide beneficial leisure activities.

In addition to bringing together youth from different specters of society, identifying their concerns and bringing out their opinions on issues is truly essential.

MAJOR OBJECTIVES OF ORGANIZING THE FESTIVAL

The effectiveness of storytelling can be evaluated based on the impact of the story on the life of the audience. The story must be relatable to the everyday life of the audience. Understanding the process of storytelling includes two agents first, 'storyteller', and second 'audience' whereas different ideas, information, emotions, etc. be the means or process of storytelling. The fundamental purpose of storytelling bridges the gap between perception and reality; it brings people closer to reality and the reflection of community or idea to the targeted audience. The storytelling process platform gives a platform to amalgamate the skills.

Sessions and Objectives

Highlights and Key Statements

Session 14: Public Speaking Workshop

To help participants in becoming more persuasive and doing better-content, style, and strategy-wise during communication.

The key points of possible communication include; creating awareness, imparting knowledge, projecting an image, shaping attitudes and behavior, stimulating desire, and effecting a sale. There are plenty of reasons to communicate.

We all have a good speaker within ourselves. We need to explore and make that quality of the speaker improve through a creative approach.

Persuasion is a sort of demonstration since people are most fully persuaded when we consider a thing to have been demonstrated. Aristotle's modes of persuasion are believed to be the heart of almost every speech.

Communication can also be simultaneously in one more than the forum.

Session 15: Youth Empowerment for Active Citizenship

To develop self-capabilities and help them in developing their resilience power, empathetic skills, and respect toward diversity.

It is very important to turn our disadvantage into an advantage and lead further to bring change in the society and country.

Joys and sorrows are similar in every humankind. As human has the same problem, we connect with people and share our thoughts. Therefore, we need to have empathy towards people.

Democracy is not about electing a government. Democracy should be participative, rather than elective or representative.

Leaders should not be conquered; leaders should be formed automatically. Respect cannot be demanding; it should be commanding. Concentration is important. If we want to rediscover yourself, buy time for yourself.

Solidarity is the need and power to lead a good life.

MAJOR OBJECTIVES OF ORGANIZING THE FESTIVAL

Sessions and objectives

Highlights and Key Statements

Session 16: Virtual Strategy for Productive Team

To make participants understand how to engage team virtually; use of virtual productivity tools for managing and solving team members problems.

Productivity is more of an achieving something and it is more of a tangible form.

Be authentic, be true to yourself as well true to the audience; be productive in a very authentic way.

Miscommunication leads to misinterpretation and also leading to more conflict in interpersonal relationships. This largely happens in a lot of organizations all over the world because, in the virtual mode, it is very easy to assume things.

Engaging in something you do together or alone for the sake of something. It is a process rather than an outcome. It is said that engaging people is productive but not all the time. Sometimes engagement cannot be related to productivity.

If we are interested in improving the quality of your life then core human skills should be focused on developing.

Challenges

Solutions

Hard to change the thought and perception of people for the development in any means.

Youth, adults, or any other stakeholders cannot change the thought of society because this is the reality that we live in together and which is being followed by years and years which tends to drag against development. We should be able to track down the issues and adopt a policy approach in every plan/ activity.

To change traditional thought, we have to go from the grassroots level in improvising the newer perspectives.

Still prevails the culture of being optimistic and expecting of getting things better without any effort makes among youth.

Youth should concern about themselves, their role, their participation, and engagement in society. Interaction, Communication, sharing stories, and experiences are the most essentials aspects to improve the situation and will lead to better solutions and opportunities.

Education is taken only as a formal study in schools, colleges, and universities; people think getting a degree makes them educated.

A degree is just a starting point- when education is applied, it becomes knowledge. And the final take is wisdom. Knowledge means knowing what to say and wisdom means to determine whether to say or not. If we want to be future-ready, if we want to make the best out of our education, we need to reach the ultimate stage of knowledge and higher education.

Education is not only about making sure all children can attend school. It is about setting young people up for life, by giving them opportunities to find decent work, earn a living, contribute to their communities and societies, and fulfill their potential. At the wider level, it is about helping countries nurture the workforce they need to grow in the global economy.

Formal education is provided in institutions that are not preparing for the future.

We have to transform everything we can trace, be it education, health, economy, governance, environment, and so on. The people we need today should have high imaginative quotient value. Youths need to focus on their crucial abilities that can be curiosity, ability to ask questions, problem-solving, and decision making. Also, Youth needs to find their Stressbuster and their purpose –inner calling. They should read more, research more significantly to broaden up their knowledge.

Education, a degree alone is not essential, one must have skill-oriented learning to meet with the Global trends and needs in terms of education and employability.

Challenges

Solutions

Lack of qualitative teachers' recruitment and mobility in providing good education; people think the profession does not carry good social value as other professions which discourages youth to involve them in the profession.

The creation of an opportunity to research can help in being a qualitative mentor. Teachers are confined only to take lessons, we need to try to address, training recruitment, growth, and salary. No good teacher means no good education.

The teacher is the platform between knowledge and knowledge seeker. Therefore, an eco-system needs to be created where there will a good opportunity for research and growth of teachers. And youths also will get attracted to the profession eventually.

Many policies have been formulated, but the impact is not visible on the ground.

We have to stress more about formulating the relevant and necessary policies with a higher rate of priority. Proper plans, Direction, Commitment to timelines, Accountability should strictly be followed. Timely monitoring and evaluation; changes and up-gradation in policies should be carried out.

Lack of multidimensional thought and perception among youth which creates issues.

The main skills that should be implemented are discipline mentality and discipline skills. In every action, if we go to have a good thing then discipline is the key thing. In today's era, critical thinking, creativity, communication skills are very much important skills and this has to build from the school level. We need to change the theoretical aspects of the learning aspect.

As we are living in the digital era, the different kind of literacy skills (information literacy, digital literacy) needs to be obligatory in today's life. Regarding life skills, youth needs leadership skills to lead their life for the better achievement of career goals. Moreover, social skills are also an important skill to develop good networking, communication with people.

Unemployment, economic, and financial crisis are the major youth issues in today's context.

Along with academic education, youth should get engaged in the development of skills, should be able to research, learn, and grow to fit in the market. They should be able to identify the need and demand and then implement the ideas they have.

Youth should take part in innovation and help the national economy coming with new business ideas and meeting different organizations and coordination with governmental bodies.

Challenges

Minimal youth participation in the decision-making process not only in government not only in the political system but everywhere.

Solutions

Young people should be recognized and look equally and give the same value in the decision-making process. Exception and recognition should be given to young people. Young people should have equal rights and value in decision making, they should not be taken as one group of people.

Youth participation is about today and many young people are actively working for the betterment of the society and the community. It is important to create opportunities, or spaces, platforms where young people can be engaged.
